The BACCN Association

The British Association of Critical Care Nurses (BACCN) is a leading non-profit organisation dedicated to the promotion of nursing in critical care.

We aim to:

- provide a national voice to shape the strategy for critical care nursing
- promote safe, quality, evidence based nursing care to critically ill patients
- provide wide ranging benefits and opportunities to BACCN members

The BACCN is one of the leading organisations in critical care nursing. BACCN was established in 1985 and has grown and developed through the hard work and dedication of its members, regional committees and national board.

The IACCN

The IACCN (Irish Association of Critical Care Nurses) is a not-for-profit organisation which was established in 1987 to represent critical care nurses across Ireland. The Association is committed to the professional and educational development of these nurses and is instrumental in providing a link with national planning and advancement within critical care.

The IACCN is a voice for excellence in Irish critical care nursing where the integral role of the specialist intensive care nurse is acknowledged, valued and at the forefront of healthcare provision and governance.

BACCN Annual Conference 2026

The conference titled “Voices of Change: Shaping the Next Era in Critical Care Nursing” aims to bring together critical care professionals from across the UK and Ireland to discuss, share and debate best practice, research and issues from across the critical care field. We have a thriving conference attendee community consisting of the following:

- Clinical practitioners
- Nurse managers
- Nurses in education posts
- Nurses in research posts
- Nurses practicing in the industrial, veterinary and military fields

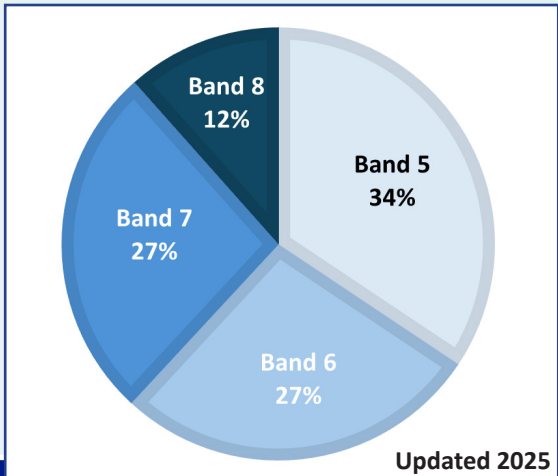

What sets our conference apart?

Our philosophy for conference is to provide an environment that enables individuals to maximise their time away from work, be that to nurture their thirst for scientific knowledge and information on the latest innovations, or an opportunity to recharge their batteries through social and professional networking.

To bring out the best in our delegates we provide an all-round conference experience with expert panellists and keynote speakers, interactive workshops provided by national and international experts and a concurrent programme from contributions by members and delegates.

Our event provides a very friendly, pro-active and community environment for delegates and exhibitors alike and we are positive that once you have attended a BACCN conference as a sponsor or exhibitor you'll want to return year after year.
