

Grant Report - BACCN Annual Conference 2025, Blackpool – Jennifer Jones

Thank you so much for giving me the opportunity to attend the BACCN conference last year in Blackpool. This was the first conference that I have ever attending, and I found the two days very insightful and aspiring. I attended the conference with three other colleagues from Blackpool teaching hospital. Whom all had positive feedback about the conference when we came back into work.

You all do an amazing job to make the conference happen and to use it to support, engagement with new and evolving topics. I am a member of the Practice Development Sister in Critical Care so I am always keen to support staff in the development and new projects. We are currently doing a lot on the unit around sustainability and humanisation which links to a lot of the talks from last year.

Thank you for inspiring us.
